Allpack - Eastpac merger

Allpack and Eastpac Group Announce Merger, Creating a Leading Packaging Solutions Provider.

This strategic merger brings together two well-established organisations with complementary capabilities, resources, and market presence. Allpack has a strong reputation for its extensive range of packaging products, sustainable packaging solutions and exceptional customer service, while Eastpac Group has earned recognition for its supportive packaging materials to e-commerce and distribution sectors and range of adaptable solutions.

By combining forces, Allpack and Eastpac Group aim to enhance their offerings, streamline operations, and deliver enhanced value to customers. The merged entity will benefit from increased production and warehouse capacity, an increased product portfolio, and an expanded distribution network, enabling Allpack to better serve its diverse customer base across various industries.

George Clarke, Managing Director of Allpack, expressed his enthusiasm about the merger, stating, "We are thrilled to join forces with Eastpac Group and create a powerhouse in the packaging industry. This merger allows us to combine our strengths and leverage our collective expertise to offer even greater value to our customers. Together, we will continue to innovate, expand our product offerings, and deliver exceptional packaging solutions."

"We are thrilled to have been a part of the IRX & eDX Exhibition and had the opportunity to showcase our cutting-edge packaging solutions," said Allpack's Marketing Manager, Andrew Almond. He added, "We understand the critical role that packaging plays in the success of e-commerce businesses, and we are committed to helping our clients stay ahead of the curve by providing innovative, sustainable, and customer-centric packaging solutions."

New Product Update

Allpack Launches grip® Taper

[grip®taper]

water-activated tape dispenser

The Innovative Water Activated Paper Tape Dispenser

The grip® Taper allows operators to use biodegradable reinforced paper tape anywhere with ease. The device is handheld and battery-operated, providing the freedom to pack parcels anywhere without the limitations of bulky desktop machines. The taper has a multitude of settings, enabling users to adjust the tape length and speed as required.

The grip® Taper is a compact and mobile device, weighing just 2.188KG when loaded. With a run time of approximately 8 hours (depending on usage), a tank capacity of 350ml and comes with an 8.4V battery included, ensures the new grip® Taper can pack parcels throughout the day with ease.

The grip® Taper is designed to make packaging easier and more efficient than ever before. With its unique, patent-pending design, the grip® Taper allows users to easily apply water-activated paper tape to their packages with one hand while holding the package with the other. This frees up the other hand, making packaging faster and more ergonomic.

Accreditation Update

Allpack Successfully Achieves ISO Re-Certification

Allpack is proud to announce that it has successfully passed its ISO 9001:2015 and 14001:2015 re-certification audits. The audits were conducted by an independent third-party organization, and a total of 91 pieces of documentation and processes were reviewed during the audits.

The ISO 9001 certification is a quality management system standard that helps organizations ensure they meet the needs of customers and other stakeholders. The ISO 14001 certification is an environmental management system standard that helps organizations minimize their impact on the environment.

Allpack has been certified to these standards for several years and has demonstrated its commitment to maintaining high standards in quality management and environmental sustainability. By passing the recent re-certification audits, Allpack has shown that it continues to meet these standards and is dedicated to providing its customers the best possible service while minimising its environmental impact.
